Source taken from: Nevins, S. (2020). 'For colored people, [they] had a great many friends: The Phillips-Lynde family of Windham, Connecticut, and Brookfield, Vermont. Vermont History, 88(1), 1-34.

Latimer's Regiment. onn Appears with the rank of Pay Roll of Capt. Nath'l Wales' Comp'y in Col. Latimer's Reg't from the State of Connecticutt from the time of being draughted till the 30th day of Oct., 1777, including six days for those discharged at Redhook, seven for those discharged at Albany, nine for those discharged at Saratoga, and seven for those discharged at Stoughtonborough, to re-turn home in. turn home in. dated Windham une 20177 24 When draughted 22 When discharged Oct Months days Wages pr. month 0 Amount Remarks: Coryust. (545i)

A mileage payroll slip given to John Lines after the Battle of Saratoga in 1777. (Courtesy of the National Archives and Records Administration, digital image Fold3.com)